HAIL FROM MICHIGAN

WOLVERINE STATE MAKES GOOD SHOWING IN REGISTRATION LIST

Every day the Glendale Evening News receives thanks and compliments from members of the different states for the state registration it has been publishing. Quite a number of people have indicated their regret that they did not get into the registration in time. This is a pity as the permanent record of the names from the different states should be as complete as possible. Do not let your name be omitted from the record of the remaining states for this week: Kentucky, Thursday; Minnesota, Friday, and Ohio Saturday.

Following are the names from Michigan, that noble stretch of country that has for its natural protection the waters of the great lakes and can show as much historical ground as any of the eastern states. Famous for its minerals and its forests Michigan is not less famous for the part it has played in the history of the United States.

HIGH SCHOOL P. T. A.

Quite a large audience assembled in the High School auditorium Monday night to listen to the program provided for their entertainment and instruction. Mrs. Hagin presided. Miss Flood in a highly interesting paper discussed the subject of "Vocational Teaching," showing how different occupations might be presented to the children in such a manner as to aid them in making choice of a career for life. Dr. Woods-Comstock spoke on "The Work of the Trained Nurse." Mr. Ed Lee gave a very instructive talk on the value of training as in contradistinction to non-trained work. Mr. Watson, city manager, also spoke on the value of training in all work. Mrs. Greely Kolts sang several songs with great acceptance. She was accompanied by Mrs. John Barrows.

VISIT TO EAST COAST

MRS. H. M. OSWALD FINDS PENN- SYLVANIA ACTIVE AND NEW YORK CITY INACTIVE

Among those who took a trip back to the extreme eastern coast of the United States this summer was Mrs. H. M. Oswald of 1439 Oak street. Mrs. Oswald is an original easterner and was anxious to visit her old home in Pennsylvania, as she has done several times since coming to Glendale. She left Glendale in August. Her visit this year left varying impressions on her mind and she arrived home in Glendale October 27 with the persuasion that after all there is no place like home.

"Stopping at Allentown, Pa., which was my old home," said Mrs. Oswald, "I found that section of the country very busy. Close to Allentown is Bethlehem, where the great iron works are. The Bethlehem Steel works is running practically night and day. The firm is manufacturing all manner of munitions for the British and their allies. The buildings are carefully guarded and no one is allowed to enter on any pretext. Even the workers themselves are required to have passes and both these and the workmen themselves are carefully scrutinized as they enter the gates. Outsiders are not allowed in at any time.

"These precautions are necessary on account of the numbers of foreign agents who are ready to attempt to blow up the munitions factories after the plans formulated by the Austrian Ambassador Dumba and others of that fraternity. The increase in work thus provided for the people of that section of Pennsylvania has made it one of the most prosperous parts of the country. There are at least 5000 men working in the Bethlehem factory.

"From Allentown I went on to New York city. The famous city looked very much the same as usual. The streets were filled with a hurrying, bustling, eager crowd. Broadway was still the 'great white way.' If anything there were more lights on that famous promenade. The stores seemed busy, but closer attention to conditions showed that there was a certain falling off in the crowd that usually throngs the stores.

"Further inquiries yielded the information that many stores have been closed up and that business is very much duller than usual. This is not to be wondered at. New York is essentially a seaport city. There is usually a scene of marvelous activity in the region of its docks. Now the docks are dull and listless and the crowds very thin. The war has stopped the transatlantic trade to a great extent and has almost put an end to the tourist business. There are still a certain number of people who must cross the Atlantic on business. There are still more who must cross it out of curiosity; but these constitute a small proportion of the old crowds that thronged the transatlantic liners.

"When I was in New York that dreadful accident that killed and injured so many persons took place. That was when the sidewalk and street on Broadway somewhere between 37th and 38th street subsided as a result of subterranean excavations. The accident, which amounted to a catastrophe, created a profound sensation throughout the city. When the noise of the accident was heard it caused a panic in one of the theaters. Many people were injured.

"There is a new bridge in New York that with the aid of the many new structures of similar character constructed within the past few years helps to carry away the congested population of the city to their country homes. This new bridge leads from Chambers street across to Hoyt street, Brooklyn. It is a great convenience to the many thousands of people who live out Coney Island way.

"Old Coney Island was closed for season when I left. I believe that it has not had a very successful season, but the beach has many wonderful attractions and the crowds that went down there this summer did not show much diminution. New York itself is cutting down its expenses and paying off its municipal debt successfully. With all the attractions of the east I remembered the approaching winter and was grateful I lived in Glendale and delighted to return to this charming spot."

SCHOOL AND CAMPUS

STUDENTS RECEIVE RECOGNITION FOR HIGH GRADES IN SCHOOL WORK

Honor Pins

Last Friday was "honor pin day" at the High School. Miss Flood presented bronze honor pins to those students who received an average of 92 per cent or above for their work in the school year of 1914-15. Twenty-four out of the Senior class received honor pins. From the Junior class there were eighteen and fourteen from the Sophomore class. 1916 got the greatest per cent of honor pins and so won the scholarship banner. A great many Seniors are working for gold honor pins, which are given at the end of the Senior year to those who have averaged a two plus grade in everything for the four years. The scholarship in Glendale is very high at present and it is believed that honor pins have had a great deal to do with it.

A10 Sweaters

The A10 Sophomores have been wearing sporty looking class sweaters for the past week. The sweaters are a bright blue trimmed with gold belt and cuffs. The boys' sweaters are some kind of a creation without sleeves. The girls' sweaters are somewhat on the order of the green ones the B10 girls are wearing and are very good looking. The A10 people do not elect their officers until midyear, so last year's officers are still serving. They are Ralph Paine, president; Mildred Croy, vice president; Bill Balthis, secretary, and Emma Lee Burton, treasurer.

ATTRACTIVE CITY

STRANGERS AND VISITORS TO GLENDALE ADMIRE CITY'S LOCATION

The city of Glendale is not only spoken well of by those who reside here, but this beautiful city it we'll spoken of by strangers who have visited hundreds of other cities which rank among the most beautiful in the land.

There is a something about the geographical location of Glendale, situated on an undulating tract of land at the foothills, admitting an excellent view of the San Fernando valley, that makes the city doubly attractive.

BARACAS TO MEET MILITARY ACADEMY

The Glendale Presbyterian Baraca class will play the Los Angeles Military Academy football team Saturday afternoon at the Third street school. This will be the second time this year the two teams have played and a dandy good game is looked for. The back field, which is composed of Joe Wilson, Pennuts Jackson, Wayne Smith and Harry Glazier, are playing a wonderful game. Each one is sure death to a man when they once get their hands upon him. Johnny Sharpe, who is playing left end, is a dandy little player, even if he is a little small in size to some of the men that he plays against. Merle Eckles, who plays right end, is playing a good game also. The line, which is composed of Jamie Shea, Don Barager, Tom McIver, Jack Robertshaw, Ted Robertshaw, Claude Norton, Ralph Carmical, George Grist and H. Kants, are playing a dandy good game. Bob Kolts, who, was slightly hurt last Saturday while playing, will be on hand, but whether or not he will be able to play remains to be seen. Sophomores—Guards T. Robertshaw, H. Freeman, M. Powers; center, V. Nieman; forwards, M. Brown, L. Davis, P. Williams.

Sophs Vs. Juniors

Last Friday after school the Sophomores met the Juniors and were defeated by a score of 10 to 15. The Junior lineup was: guards, McGillis, Seay; forwards, West, Fishel; centers, Wilson, Hagin.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN THE COUNTRY

Business men in the country are rejoicing over a vast increase in the iron and steel trade caused by the war. The mills of Pennsylvania and other eastern states are humming merrily all the time and a constant flow of coin of the realm gladdens the hearts of the people in those sections. The country has indeed reason to be thankful that such is the case as there are other sections where prosperity does not show its face. That the furnaces and mills of the east are operating at their full capacity and that the prices received for many if not all of the articles manufactured are far above those received two years ago is matter for congratulation.

It is also matter for thankfulness that the United States is at peace with the world and that it has been impossible to draw her out of that attitude. There is a chance that the war in Europe will be closed up and settled soon and that afterward a basis may be arranged on which the nations may live at peace. The United States will probably be called to settle the terms or at least to aid in settling the terms of peace and of future agreement. This should naturally give this country a commanding position in world's affairs.

When it is considered that the marked improvement in financial and business conditions noted during the past few months is to be attributed largely to the war in Europe it may also be admitted that there are other reasons for this prosperity. The total wealth of the United States, according to the last published figures, is more than one-fourth of the aggregate of all the nations and is rapidly increasing.

As to the likelihood that this increase will become permanent it may be well to suspend judgment until it is manifest what may be the results of the war as far as cheap labor from abroad is concerned and also as far as the purchasing power of impoverished Europe may have a bearing on the subject.

With wise administration and with the co-operation of the state-and the national governments, American industries will be able to recover from whatever influences may have been holding them back in the meantime. The injurious effects of the war will ultimately pass away and within a few years the country will be more successful than ever.

DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA

It was a mere chance that prevented Drake, the famous English explorer, from discovering Alaska. In his wonderful voyage round the world in a vessel that was a mere pleasure yacht of small dimensions he skirted the Pacific coast, came to within an ace of discovering San Francisco's present site, and then sailed northward but finding the coast running out more and more toward the west he gave up following its contour and thus lost the opportunity of entering what is now known as the Bering sea.

Had the exigencies of travel in those old days not been such as to demand that Drake should go where provisions were to be had and where his ship might be refitted the story of Alaska would have been vastly different from what it has been. Britain would have taken possession of the great northern territory and years of non-progression under Russian rule would have been spared the world.

Even after the Russians had discovered the country it was looked on chiefly as a happy hunting ground for criminal barons and their train. The memory of Baranoff, the Russian governor-general of Alaska, and his atrocities, will never die out as long as the remains of the old Baranoff castle look out over the northern sea. That idea remained to a great extent even after the United States had purchased Alaska.

Ideas of the "frozen north" where "never a law of God or man runs" possessed the mind of the United States and is very difficult to eradicate. Naturally Alaska is a cold country in winter, so are many parts of the east and central states. Alaska, however, has a summer and several climates besides. Two thousand miles lie between some of its towns and that distance makes a vast difference between their climatic conditions.

Numbers of Glendale people visited the lower part of Alaska this summer, going by the Inside Passage. They saw many wonders and revelled in natural scenery unrivaled anywhere in the world. They saw the biggest gold stamp in the world. They caught a glimpse of some of the marvels of that marvelous region and after all they had only skirted a very small section of the Alaska coast, which measured in and out of its sinuosities gives a length of 27,000 miles.

Alaska's area is a matter of wonder. When the people jeered at the purchase of the country from the Russians at the suggestion of Secretary Seward, they jeered at Alaska also under the name of "Seward's Ice Chest." If they had known at that time that one small section of Alaska would yield in a year as much gold as the United States paid for the whole country they would have held their tongues.

If they had known that even in the mere fringe of territory that had been explored by the Americans there are countless millions of dollars' worth of oil, lumber, coal, gold, silver, platinum and other valuable metals and minerals they would have lauded Seward as one of the greatest and most farseeing statesmen that the United States has ever produced. Like Jefferson Seward was before his time. His works follow him. His name is enshrined in the designation of "Seward peninsula," a tract of gold-bearing country as large as California, and yet but a small portion of the 590,000 square miles that constitute the great territory this country got for its $7,000,000. Uncle Sam is usually counted a good bargainer but that was the best bargain he ever made.

When the beauties of Europe are shut out from the gaze of the traveling American by the war let him go and visit the beauties of his own land. Here he will find vistas of the grandest magnificence. Mountain ranges that outclass those of Switzerland. Groups of volcanoes that are alive and threatening and capable of affording him a hundred sensations and a thousand other marvels that are all national, all American.

SCHOOLS CLOSE TUESDAY

The public schools of Glendale were closed Tuesday on account of that day being San Francisco Day at the Panama Exposition at San Francisco. Schools were quite generally closed throughout the State on that day, and the writer does not doubt for a minute but there were good reasons for making emphatic the day by giving the children a holiday.

The Evening News has been asked by patrons of the schools to inquire as to the reason for closing the Glendale schools on account of such a meager excuse. The Evening News is not finding fault with the actions of the school board of trustees and the school faculty because the pupils were given a day's vacation. Citizens who wish to investigate as to the necessity of closing the schools on the date referred to may do so, and the Evening News is ready to publish any reasonable communication giving light on the subject.

A vacation day for boys and girls who are hard workers in school is not amiss, and often is the means of pupils doing better work on account of the day's rest.

Every day is a school day for the boy and girl who is wide awake in observing the objects about him.

FEEDING STATIONS ON STREETS

An outside concern doing canvassing and selling of goods in Glendale has established a feeding station on one of the beautiful residence streets of Glendale. This feeding station takes the place of a livery barn or feed shed, admission to which the well-to-do rancher or traveler is expected to pay the regular price charged.

Why not some one of our thrifty citizens establish a feeding station on the public streets? What is the need of Glendale teamsters paying rent for stable space when outsiders are getting that space free on the streets? Inconsistency somewhere.

Prof. Walz of Harvard says that organization of German-Americans on political lines would be foolish and unpatriotic. Then he adds that it is necessary. Very sad to be forced into folly and near treason.

In asking for a divorce a woman files letters containing 155,925—count 'em—words written by the other woman. If such affection could be disposed of at magazine rates, there would be something in it.

There is something almost pathetic in the efforts of sport writers to keep alive an interest in pugilism. Somehow the public cannot be spurred to caring which of two lowbrows can whip the other.

INTERPRETING HIS WANTS

There was chicken for dinner at the starbeams Man's house, and Jerry, aged 31-2, and Baby Russ, were each given a wing. Baby Russ' was somewhat too bare for satisfaction and he tired of it and returned it to his mother.

"Mother," said Jerry, "the baby's passing his bone to get some more meat on it."—Kansas City Star.

COMPETITION NECESSARY

"Jack, I wish you'd come to see me occasionally."
"Why, Vanessa, I thought you were engaged to Algernon Wombat?"

"No; but I think I could be if I could get up a little brisk competition."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE OTHER FELLOW'S JOB SEEMS EASY

To the average person the other fellow's job seems like a snap. However, it is wise to bear in mind that the other fellow has his troubles. The man experienced in business knows only too well that it requires training to become proficient in any line of work, and while he can perform accurately and rapidly the work he has in hand, he is well aware that he could not competently fill the positions of others who are doing a special work.

To be too ready to criticize the other fellow shows a mental weakness in the make-up of the individual doing the criticizing.

FUNCTION OF CLUBS

The benefits derived from the work done by the various clubs of the City of Glendale is noticeable to all observing citizens. A well organized club has an important mission to perform and it is a strong factor in building up the educational institutions of the community in which it exists.

NOTHING UNUSUAL

"Any pretty girls at the hotel where you spent the summer."
"Yes, indeed," replied the man whose few remaining strands of hair were laid out to the best advantage. "Did they show you any attention?"
"They showed me just as little as they could."
"Tough luck!"
"I rather expected it. You see, they were waitresses."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

She will be glad to give these to any Glendale residents who will take the trouble to call at the Glendale Garden society headquarters, 1111 W. Broadway. Mrs. Ella W. Richardson has also contributed a quantity of canna bulbs which may be secured at the same place by those who wish to make use of them.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wilde, 238 N. Louise, entertained at dinner Friday evening. The house was beautifully decorated in keeping with the season. The dining room was adorned with the symbols of Hallowe'en. In the center of the table was a huge basket of chrysanthemums and everywhere were flowers and other adornments. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Neal, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Keleher, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Pulliam and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Neal.

A small party of joyous boys and girls spent a most delightful day Tuesday at Verdugo park. Those in attendance were Lois and Edith Schuyler, Robert and Margaret Frazee, Millicent and Jack Alvord, with Miss Mabel C. Galey as chaperon.

POSTPONED GARDEN MEETING

The Glendale Garden Society meeting has been postponed from its regular date of meeting on the first Thursday of the month to Thursday evening, Nov. 18, at which time it is expected that Geo. Maxwell of Los Angeles will deliver an address.

A MODERN GOOD SAMARITAN

The story of the Good Samaritan was re-enacted in Glendale last Friday, so thinks a Glendale man. An old gentleman who is a familiar figure on the streets has been in ill health lately and starting home from Glendale avenue was taken very sick and was unable to proceed on his way. He sat down on the curbstone moaning. Several people passed by unheeding until a certain gentleman noticed his predicament, hailed a passing jitney, helped the sick man in and like the Good Samaritan of old paid the bill. This man has a credit on the Recording Angel's book.

LADIES' AID TO MEET

In keeping with the new life that is moving in the First Methodist Episcopal church considerable activity is being shown in connection with the Ladies' Aid society. A meeting for active work and planning for the season will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the home of Mrs. L. Ellis, 541 S. Kenwood. A large attendance is anticipated.

EAGLE ROCK

The election held for voting the school bonds resulted in such a close vote that the school board deemed it best to take a new vote on the bonds proposition. The date chosen for this important event is Monday, November 29.

Frank Hammer of Los Angeles was here calling on relatives Sunday.

A. A. House and his crew are putting in cement work for C. C. Miller on East Ellenwood drive.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Johns on West Colorado boulevard last Thursday afternoon. After much important business was transacted Miss Olive Moe gave a talk on the Indians and had a most interesting collection of Indian relics to show. Just before the close of the meeting the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

In the near future the Twentieth Century club will hold a rummage sale in Los Angeles in the Mexican district and they gladly accept anything that is salable.

The Sunday schools have already selected committees and are busily engaged in preparing Christmas programs.

The Hallowe'en social held last Saturday night at the Kingdon home on Fairmont avenue was a great success and the attendance was large. The rooms were most elegantly decorated in Hallowe'en decorations and of course a witch and ghosts were present to partake of the evening's festivities. The porch was enclosed and as each person entered he was served with punch. A ghost received all as they entered the house. Miss Olive Moe, dressed as a gypsy, was located in a cozy corner of the room and told the fates of a large number present. Miss Helen Frank had charge of the popcorn booth and took in a neat sum. Several Hallowe'en stunts, music and conversation helped make the evening very jolly and supper was served cafeteria style at 15 cents a plate. The receipts of the social will go towards the piano fund of the M. E. church choir.

Saturday the second Oxy football game of this season took place. The Occidental Tigers played the Whittier team and the result was 13 to 6 in favor of the Tigers. In the near future the team from Syracuse, N. Y., will meet the Occidental team here on this field.

This month, November 27, Eagle Rock citizens will vote on the proposition of annexing with Los Angeles. The question has and will continue to be agitated with interest by both voting factions. The outcome is very hard to determine as the sentiment is evenly divided. Last Thursday afternoon an interesting argument was held at the Twentieth Century club house. Prof. Chandler took up the argument for annexation and W. J. Cook took up argument opposing the subject. It could not be decided which side was best argued as both gentlemen handled the subject well.

Our citizens were much surprised when they received their bills for the county taxes and what appeared to be a tremendous increase over last year's taxes. After much excitement and phoning it was discovered that the county auditor's office had mixed things up considerably and had included the Eagle Rock city tax with the county tax. A representative from the county office called and informed the city attorney that new and correct bills would be sent out before the taxes become delinquent.

The ladies of the Episcopal church held a food sale in the Fer Don store room last Saturday from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. and were well paid for their work. The profits of the day will go towards the new church fund.

The Presbyterian ladies will hold their next meeting all day Thursday, Nov. 4. A lunch will be served at noon and a thank offering will take place. A special speaker will be present to address them.

Garner Curran has sold his bungalow on East Adams to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Long, who moved in last week. Mr. Curran and wife are living at San Francisco.

The Donnell family have vacated the house on Eddy avenue and are now living in the Black house on Rowland avenue.

Miss Dorothy Johns of Colorado boulevard entertained a number of her friends last Saturday afternoon at a Hallowe'en party. All came decked in costumes not uncommon at Hallowe'en time and passed a most pleasant afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served.

COMING, YOUNG PEOPLE, NOTICE

A great union meeting of the Young People's societies of the Glendale, Tropic and Casa Verdugo churches will be held at the Glendale Baptist church on Sunday evening, November 14, 1915, at 6 o'clock. The theme of the meeting will be "How the Denominations May Be United in Service." Isa. 52:7, 8. This will be one of the most helpful and most largely attended young people's gatherings ever held in Glendale. Come yourself and bring all the friends you have. Help advertise this great event far and wide.

TROPICO

It was a merry and lighthearted party of young girls, students of Glendale High, who started out early Tuesday morning, taking advantage of the holiday, on a hike to Griffiths Park. With well filled lunch baskets and boxes, including all delicacies from wieners to marshmallows sufficient edibles were provided to appease the appetites of these eleven girls who several times on the "hike" made great inroads in the provisions supplied. Returning in the early evening a rest was enjoyed at Pa'm Villa with Miss Marjorie Imler as hostess. While some of the girls rested others enjoyed music and dancing until the approaching shades of night, when all departed for home, a merry, happy coterie of sweet young girls whose only cares are to be happy and to make others happy. These eleven girls who are warm, fast friends, number Misses Katherine Renshaw, Juanita Emery, Marjorie Imler, Catherine Phillips, Evangeline Hunchberger, Margaret Boucher, Ernestine Lyon, Esther Schremp, Katherine Koates, Florence Heacock and Cecilia Lym.

Mrs. George Bahrenberg of Bakersfield, who is the houseguest of her mother, Mrs. J. E. Bahrenberg of Twin Pines on West Park avenue, is also enjoying a pleasant visit with her numerous Los Angeles friends.

Miss Eulalia Richardson and her brother, Will Richardson, who but recently returned from a two years' sojourn in the east attending college, are the guests of their uncle, O. S. Richardson, on a few days' trip to his mining interests near Rosmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ayres entertained with a very delightful dinner party at their home on North Central avenue Wednesday when their guests included Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Burch of Missouri and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burch of New Mexico, who are spending several months in Altadena, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson C. Ayres and N. C. Burch, Rev. and Mrs. Rider.

INTERMEDIATE P. T. A.

While a large number of private Hallowe'en parties undoubtedly diminished the attendance at the Intermediate Parent-Teacher association's Hallowe'en entertainment at the Intermediate school Monday night, quite a number of people were present. The evening was pleasantly spent in the usual Hallowe'en games and amusements. Miss Weatherby sang a number of vocal pieces with great acceptance. The prizes for the games were of such a nature as to occasion much merriment. The next regular meeting of the association will be held on the second Monday in December and an excellent program is being planned. It is expected that the attendance on that occasion will break the record. Parents are specially urged not to miss this occasion.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

South Pasadena has an ordinance making it unlawful for a bicycle rider to catch hold of or hang onto a moving automobile while riding on his wheel. Notwithstanding the danger of accident there are some riders who are willing to take a chance just to get a little help on a hill.

Two were fined for this offense in the police court yesterday and the officers say that from now on arrest will follow every case of this kind apprehended.—South Pasadena Record.

J. De Witt Moon sold his residence on Ruth street, Casa Verdugo, to Wesley Roberts of Los Angeles on Wednesday of this week. The deal was made through the H. L. Miller Co., real estate agency.

EATING AN APPLE

"Do you know what you're eating?" said the doctor to the girl. "An apple of course." "You are eating," said the doctor, "albumen, sugar, gum, malic acid, gallic acid, fibre, water and phosphorus."

"I hope those things are good. They sound alarming." "Nothing could be better. You ate, I observed, rather too much meat at dinner. The malic acid of apples neutralizes the excess of chalky matter caused by too much meat, and thereby helps to keep you young. Apples are good for your complexion; their acids drive out the noxious matters which cause skin eruptions. They are good for your brain, which those same noxious matters, if retained, render sluggish. Moreover, the acids of the apple diminish the acidity of the stomach that comes with some forms of indigestion. The phosphorus, of which apples contain a larger percentage than any other fruit or vegetable, renews the essential nervous matter of the brain and spinal column. Oh, the ancients were not wrong when they esteemed the apple the food of the gods—the magic renewer of youth to which the gods resorted when they felt themselves growing old and feeble. I think I'll have an apple," concluded the doctor.—New York Tribune.

LOOKED BAD FOR PAPA

William's uncle was a very tall, fine looking man, while his father was very small. William admired his uncle and wished to grow up like him. One day he said to his mother: "Mamma, how did uncle grow so big and tall?"

His mother said, "Well, when uncle was a small boy he was always a very good boy and tried to do what was right at all times, so God let him grow up big and tall."

William thought this over seriously for a few minutes, then said, "Mamma, what kind of a boy was papa?"—Pittsburg Post.

Entire freedom from Colds and Grippe

Did you ever wonder why people seldom have colds or grippe in summer?

There are just as many drafts—just as frequent changes in temperature then. And these are what cause colds and influenza.

But not when you are well or when you can exercise freely in the open air and sunshine of outdoors and have every window wide open when you sleep.

In winter this is impossible. Bad weather cuts down exercise. The windows are closed. The life is burned out of the air we breathe, by stove or furnace. And we get "run down" and "out of sorts" and in just the condition to quickly take cold or grippe or other disease and have it hard.

If we could live all year in summer conditions we need never fear these dreaded troubles. Sunshine and the oxygen of outdoors is the best precaution.
